

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL.

ESTABLISHED 1860. NO. 50

STANFORD, LINCOLN COUNTY, KENTUCKY. FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1912

TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

The "Best Offer" Proved a Big Success and Same Will Be Extended Until June 25th

If you are in earnest and wish to be one of the eleven winners on June 29th, get out and hustle as you never did before. This is going to be a very close finish and you will need every vote to win. This is positively your last chance to make your subscriptions bring so many votes so rather in every available subscription before that date.

THE CONTEST CLOSES JUNE 29TH

Just eight days more of this record breaking contest which is by long odds the greatest ever attempted by a country paper in Kentucky.

Everything was hustle and bustle in the contest department the past few days as the contestants and their friends keep bringing in the subscriptions. Scores of contestants took advantage of the Best Offer of the contest and hundreds of new subscriptions were added to the subscription list of the Interior Journal.

So successful was this big offer that we have decided to extend it until June 25th. It is the supposition of the contest manager that you all want your "favorite" to win and now that this BEST OFFER has been extended, you will be prompted to pitch in and do everything in your power to make your candidate a winner. Here then is the grandest and most magnificent opportunity that has been repeated for your benefit, that you may win for your favorite. It is POSITIVELY THE BEST OFFER OF THE CONTEST and it has been repeated at this time in order that you may take fresh hope, that you may bolster up your courage and come down the home stretch with a spirit and dash that will land you a winner.

Your Last Chance.
We wish to impress on the contestants that this is POSITIVELY YOUR LAST CHANCE to take advantage of the Best and Biggest offer. It will positively close at 9 o'clock Tuesday night, June 25th and after that date and hour, the vote schedule will be a big drop and continue at a low schedule during the remainder of the contest. Subscriptions will be accepted from the contestants and their friends who are in the office at 9 P. M. that night but no one will be allowed to enter and take advantage of the big offer after that time. Subscriptions will be accepted to apply on this offer from people living outside of the city if the envelope is postmarked not later than 9 p. m. Tuesday, June 25th. This will give those living at a distance the same chance as those living in the city.

Turn in Your Subscriptions.
If you have been holding back any subscriptions waiting for a bigger offer, you are going to be greatly disappointed if you don't bring them in now for you will never get another chance during the contest to make your subscriptions bring as many votes as right now. Get every available subscription and especially the big ones before June 25th. Be up and doing every minute of the time. Do not wait a single hour for you know that delays are dangerous at this stage of the race. Don't think about calling on your friend. Go and see them at once. Especially call on those season-later friends and those come-around-near-the-end-and-I'll-help-you-out acquaintances. Get every promise cashed. Don't stop at a one year subscription. Go after the five, ten and twenty year subscriptions. As matters now stand, a good many of your friends do not know whether it is your desire to make a race for the prizes and glory, and unless you tell them, their support will be given to someone else. The prizes should act as a proper incentive and when you consider the person, the race, the honor of winning should act as a greater incentive.

Read Carefully.
Until further notice, no contestant will be allowed to poll more than 50,000 votes above the leader in the preceding issue. During the past week this limit has been 20,000 above the leader and a number of contestants have turned in more than the limit and then wondered why we did not give them credit for all in the paper at once. Where more votes than the limit allowed are polled, we hold out the balance and vote them in the next issue for the candidate.

WARNING!

No checks will be accepted on the last two days of the contest. If you take checks for subscriptions, be sure and have them made payable to yourself and not them cashed before turning them into this office. This is imperative.

Should there be any mistake in the count of any contestant's vote up to the present time, call the attention of the contest manager to it before next Monday night. Otherwise the count will stand as correct up to the present date.

Murphy—Howe.

Beloved Lincoln County Girl Weds Man From Tennessee.

McKinney, Ky., June 20.
One of the social features of the season was the marriage of Miss Mary Catherine Murphy to Mr. John E. Howe, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Howe, of Harriman, Tenn., at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murphy on the Hustonville and Stanford pike, Rev. J. Q. Montgomery, of Liberty officiating. The marriage was solemnized Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

June is the month for brides and roses and one could not wish for a prettier or more simple wedding. The wedding was a brilliant event and one of much interest because of the prominence of both parties.

The spacious living room, where the ceremony was said, was decorated with daisies. At ten o'clock the bridal procession came down the stairway and the bride's maids, Miss Ruth Tanner, and best man, Mr. Herman E. Gann, entered the room first, followed by the bride and groom. The bride's maid was very lovely in white serge with white hat to match.

They formed a circle in the center of the room where they received the marriage vows. The bride was never lovelier. She was handsomely attired in a dark blue going-away suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of bride roses.

After the ceremony, their many friends showered them with good wishes and congratulations and the happy couple went to Moreland, where they boarded the train for the south.

They will visit Chattanooga, Atlanta, and Harriman on their honeymoon and will return to Somerset. They will be gone about four weeks. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murphy and is one of the most charming, accomplished and popular girls of this community, and has always been a social favorite. She has a large number of friends, who regret to give her up, but they feel that their loss is some one else's gain.

Mr. Howe comes from Harriman, Tenn., and is held very highly in the business world as well as socially. He holds a splendid position with the Berry Lumber Co., of Pennsylvania, and is held in high esteem by that firm. His friends consider that his future is bright and his success is assured, and wish for him and his dainty bride long life of joy and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Howe were remembered with many beautiful and useful gifts in silver, cut glass, and linen. Mr. and Mrs. Howe will make their home in Chattanooga after September, where he is connected with the Chattanooga Jewelry Co., of that place.

MARSHALL NEWLAND

Appointed Magistrate In The Crab Orchard District.

Marshall C. Newland, of near Crab Orchard, was appointed magistrate for the second district in Lincoln county by Governor McCreary this week. He takes the place on the fiscal court made by the death of Squire K. D. Noaks a short time ago. Mr. Newland is one of the best equipped young men in the county for the place, having recently completed a civil engineering course in State University and specialized on road work. He is the son of Henry Newland and a prominent young democrat. His appointment is regarded to some extent as a compromise between Col. D. K. Farris and J. P. Chandler, both of whom were making a hot fight for the place.

Young Embry's Great Work

Frankfort defeated Mt. Sterling 6 to 0 Thursday with Wesley Embry, of Stanford pitching. The Louisville Herald said of the game: "The best pitched game in this league this season was won here today by Kid Embry, the wonder picked up by Frankfort from Stanford. He let the heavy hitting Mt. Sterling team down with two meaty hits and shut them out in their first game in the league. The visitors were at Embry's mercy at all times, as no man reached third for the visitors during the game."

Parker Chairman of Democrats
News comes from Baltimore that Judge Altus B. Parker, of New York who was the democratic candidate for president in 1904, has been decided upon by the national committee as temporary chairman of the democratic national convention when it assembles next week. Bryan is said to be opposed to Parker, as being too conservative, and may go before the convention to fight his selection.

The Court of Appeals in a decision handed down Tuesday upheld the validity of the Kentucky direct primary law, enacted by the last last general assembly.

Republican Convention Flashes

Thursday and Friday the committees worked, and the Taft steam roller still ran rough shod over the Roosevelt delegates.

Roosevelt has indicated his willingness to head a third Progressive party.

The regular republican convention is practically certain to nominate Taft, whose forces have controlled on every vote taken so far.

The nomination is expected late Saturday or early Sunday morning. Gov. Hadley, of Missouri, is being strongly urged by his friends as an ideal compromise candidate. He was given quite an ovation.

It is believed that not over 200 delegates will follow Teddy if he decides to quit the regular convention. Many are afraid to be termed as bolters.

GEORGE D. WEAREN

GOES TO HIS REWARD

Death Angel Calls Again For One of Stanford's Older Citizens

—A God Fearing Man

Another of the older generation of citizens of Lincoln was gathered unto his fathers when the death angel came into the midst of this happy little community again early Friday morning and called for George D. Wearen to come take the crown of eternal life which had long awaited him as a true and faithful servant of the Master here below.

Mr. Wearen had been in delicate health for several years of heart trouble and complications. A few months ago he began to decline rapidly, and for about a week the end had been looked for by the faithful and loving watchers at his bedside. He was 66 years of age, and had spent a long and useful life in Stanford. No man stood higher in any walk of life. He was a good citizen, a kind and loving husband, a devoted father and held the respect and esteem of all who knew him. When a young man he became a member of the Presbyterian church, and was ever faithful to its tenets and an active worker at all times in the cause of the Master. His presence and influence will be greatly missed. The place that will be vacant will be hard to fill. Mr. Wearen took an active interest in civic and political affairs for a number of years, and served as deputy county clerk a term in early life.

The deceased was one of nine children of Drenery Wearen, the only survivor now being a younger brother, B. K. Wearen, of Cairo, Ill. He was born in Garrard county 66 years ago, but moved to Lincoln when a young man, and lived on a farm for a number of years. After that he engaged in business enterprises and traveled considerably. Forty-four years ago he married Miss Jennie Alford, and to this union four children survive, Mrs. R. G. Hall, of Kansas City, Jesse D. Wearen, W. B. Wearen and Mrs. George H. Farris, of this city.

The remains of this good man will be laid to rest in the family lot in Buffalo Springs cemetery Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, after services at the home conducted by his pastor, Rev. P. L. Bruce. The pallbearers will be J. M. Bruce, W. H. Higgins, J. B. Paxton, A. C. Sine, P. M. McRoberts, and W. H. Wearen.

They say that the good democrats of Garrard are for Harvey Helm for Congress by a large majority and that he is sure to carry the county by a safe vote on August 3rd. They say that the trumped up charges that are being made against him by the opposition are making the democrats that much stronger for him.

GOD'S FINGER TOUCHED

HER AND SHE SLEPT.

Death Comes To Mrs. S. H. Baughman After Years of Patient Suffering—A Noble Woman

As a little child closes its eyes gently in sleep, sweetly at peace with all the world, Mrs. Sallie Harris Baughman fell into the slumber that knows no waking this side of the Judgment Morn, early Wednesday morning. Surrounded by her devoted husband and children and ever attentive sisters, the end came so peacefully that the faithful watchers at the bedside could hardly tell as the spirit of this good woman, wife and mother, crossed over the river into the land that is fairer than day.

For several weeks past, her soul had hovered on the brink, and the end was expected long before came the final call to come up higher. A period of invalidism extending over many years, had undermined what was a remarkable constitution, but her superb vitality manifested itself until the very end. Time after time she had rallied, and renewed hope in her faithful attendants that she might still surmount all trials. Tired nature, however, gave up the unequal contest, at last, and it must indeed, have been a sweet relief when mortal sorrow and suffering were laid aside for the bright robes and crown of everlasting life awaiting her beside the great white throne.

Mrs. Baughman was one of the best known and most beloved women in Lincoln county. Her long life of 66 years had been one of unselfish ministering unto others. She lived for those she loved, it can be most truly said. Her constant thought was of some act of kindness she might do, some helping hand to lend the weary along life's fitful way, some act of loving tenderness for the oppressed, a deed of charity or love for those lacking in the blessings which she enjoyed. Hers was the ideal Christian life; hers the true Christian's death. With a word of love and encouragement to the loved ones gathered near, that they mourn not her departure, for she would be watching and waiting for them at the heavenly gates, she patiently welcomed the end, satisfied all was well.

Mrs. Baughman was the daughter of the late James A. Harris, one of Lincoln county's most prominent farmers and citizens in his day. Her mother, who survives at advanced age, was Miss Susan Taylor, before her marriage. Her father and mother moved to Lincoln from Madison early in life, and reared a large family. She was the oldest child. Surviving are her brother, Col. Samuel T. Harris, and her sisters, Mrs. Bettie Bush, Mrs. E. P. Woods, and Mrs. Annie Engleman. Two other sisters, Mrs. George R. Engleman and Mrs. Geo. P. Bright, preceded her to the great beyond only a few years.

Forty-seven years ago, the deceased became the bride of Mr. Samuel H. Baughman, a member of one of Lincoln's most prominent families, and a leading farmer. Their married life was an ideal one. And the sympathies of a host of friends and loved ones go out to her life long companion who is today thus left alone. Six children survive this union, and eleven grandchildren. The children are James H. Baughman, Mrs. W. B. McKinney, Mrs. W. H. Wearen, Mrs. W. N. Craig, John S. Baughman and Mrs. Shelton M. Sautley.

In early life, Mrs. Baughman gave herself to the Master, and became an earnest worker in His vineyard here. Presiding Elder, Rev. W. E. Arnold, who knew her well and admired her many beautiful traits of character, when serving the local church a number of years ago, conducted brief funeral services over the remains, at the home on the Somerset pike, Wednesday afternoon. Friends, loved ones and relatives gathered there in large numbers to pay the last tribute to the passing of a true Mother in Israel, and the cortege which followed the body to its final resting place in the family lot in Buffalo Springs cemetery, was one of the longest seen here in many days. A mass of flowers of springtime covered the bier, as Rev. Arnold, assisted by Rev. D. M. Walker said brief services at the grave. The pall bearers were all nephews Messrs. Robert B. and James H. Woods, J. W. and H. C. Baughman, Jones ad Henry Baughman, James Harris and Sam Harris, Jr., and John Rout.

Ordination at Hustonville
